

MARCELA BELLINI GALLERY

NEW YORK ONEIRIC

Padlock & skyline

A single lock clings to the gate, standing still while the skyline of New York stretches endlessly behind it. The gate frames the city creating a barrier. This lock carries a story—maybe a promise, maybe a memory—. Is this lock a symbol of love meant to last forever, or of something left behind in time? The gate is both a frame and a barrier—do we look through it, or are we trapped behind it? Through the metal grid, the skyline looks distant, almost untouchable, like a dream just out of reach.

SHOP NOW

 Instagram

 Sitio Web