Manhattan Confusion # 2

A dreamlike collision of spaces, signs, and stories.

Wonka, towering on a wall like a surreal prophet of urban fantasy.
Behind him, a factory looms—the kind you glimpse from Roosevelt
Island, when you stare back at the city.

Skyscrapers interrupt the image, multiplying the layers.
And in the middle of it all: “Mini Storage.com”, commercial whispers wrapped in the poetry of chaos.

This is a confusion of the city that never sleeps.
